

SLATE IS MADE FOR DELEGATES

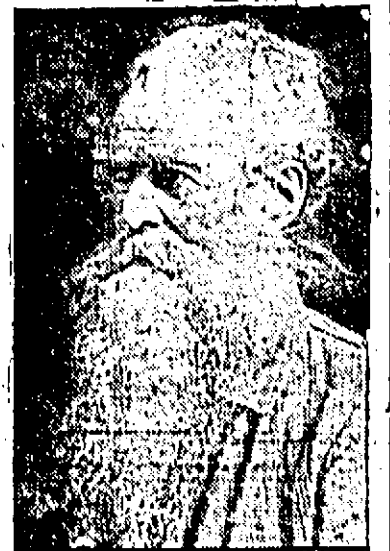

Every District But The Fifth Organized In Behalf Of Senator La Follette.

MEN NAMED KNOWN TO BE RIGHT

Ninth District Delegates Are Picked, But Their Announcement Is Withheld For The Present. According To Report.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 21.—A special to the Daily News from Madison says announcement has been made of the candidates for practically all of the districts who are on the La Follette slate for district delegates to the republican national convention. The list is as follows:
First—Harry Wilder, Evansville; Harry Martin, Darlington.
Second—Alfred Rogerson, Madison; Harris Stedman, Berlin.
Third—Duncan Gregory, Platteville; J. L. Dittmar, Elroy.
Fourth—David Harlowe, Milwaukee; S. C. Lorene, Milwaukee.
Fifth—Wm. Knell, Milwaukee; Henry Lockney, Wausau.
Sixth—No selection yet made.
Seventh—E. M. Wing, La Crosse; Walter Hunter, Maudslow.
Eighth—H. O. Tarrison, Manitowish; Geo. B. Nelson, Stevens Point.

Ninth—No selection has been made.
Tenth—A. W. Johnson, Ashland; one vacancy.
Eleventh—Walter Owen, Ellsworth; and Irving Leont.
In the fifth district the La Follette people are waiting before making their announcement in the hope of getting two men who they believe will get a number of fair-minded democrats to their standard. One of these men will probably be E. H. Hubbard of Ripon and the other will be a Shoshone county man, possibly Henry Krumrey of Plymouth.
Complications in the La Follette ranks have prevented the sixth district candidates being announced at this time as there are several men who want to go and the La Follette people are trying to arrange a compromise between them. The same reasons exist for the failure to name one of the candidates in the tenth.

KANSAS HERMIT.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 21.—Gen. Hugh Cameron, the "Kansas Hermit," known all over the country as a pedestrian because especially of his feat in walking from his home near Lawrence, Kan., to Washington, D. C., several years ago, when he was opening a school of the railroads, has been announced as his intention of spending his last days in a motor car. Gen. Cameron will tour the United States in a motor car, talking to the people upon topics which he may deem of interest. He will carry with him a talking machine to assist in attracting and holding the crowds. Gen. Cameron says he will not sleep in the automobile, spending the winter months in the south and proceeding northward as the warm weather advances. He plans to start next fall.

Gen. Cameron is an exceptional character. He is 82 years old and has spent an exceptionally active life, and one of hardships as well. He was a brigadier-general in the civil war, and throughout his life has been greatly interested in political affairs of the country. Gen. Cameron some years ago took up the defense of the late Edmund G. Ross, once United States senator from Kansas. Senator Ross was the man who saved Andrew Johnson, president of the United States, from impeachment, and this action practically made Senator Ross an exile. Gen. Cameron has spent most of his life on a farm a few miles west of Lawrence, naming the place "Camp Den Hartson, Gen. Burns." He has lived part of the time in a cabin with the plainest of furnishings, and he is a man of abstemious habits.

Gen. Cameron has permitted his hair and beard to grow for years without clipping, and he presents a striking patriarchal appearance in public. He rarely takes an opportunity to visit the legislature in Kansas when that body is in session, often placing before the lawmakers some measure which he deems to the benefit of the state or the country.

EDWARD'S NIECE MAY WED ITALIAN COUNT

Princess Patricia of Connaught May Marry Count of Turin, Cousin of King of Italy.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, Feb. 21.—One of the engrossing topics just now in royal circles, and of course in the smart set, is the reported betrothal of the Princess Patricia of Connaught, daughter of King Edward's only living brother, and the Count of Turin, who is first cousin to the king of Italy. The rumor of the engagement is apparently well founded, though an official announcement has not yet been made. The Countess has been spending much of the winter in the Mediterranean, and at Malta, Rome and other places where they have stopped the Count of Turin has been a conspicuously frequent guest.

Princess Patricia and the Count of Turin are an interesting pair of young people as can be found in European royalty. Princess Patricia will be 22 years old next month and is very popular. From all reports she might have been queen of Spain today had she wished, but apparently she did not care for the honor, which went to her cousin, Prince Alfonso of Asturias. Princess Patricia is a great favorite with her uncle, the king, as well as with all of the connections of the British royal family. Her mother, the Duchess of Connaught, a daughter of the splendid soldier, Red Prince Frederick Charles, who served so gloriously in the Franco-Prussian war. The Duke of Connaught himself is a distinguished military man, being a field marshal of the British army and since 1904 the Inspector-General of the forces. Princess Patricia has but one brother, Prince Arthur of Connaught, who visited America several years ago. His only sister, Princess Margaret, is the wife of Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden.

The Count of Turin is the son of the unhappy Duke of Aosta, who was once king of Spain, but abdicated, and died about fifteen years ago. The Count of Turin is handsome and a polished courtier, and his engagement to this daughter of the British royal family has been repeatedly announced. In 1898 the Count visited America and was well received in New York, Newport and other centers. A short time previous to his American trip he had gained much notoriety by fighting a duel with Prince Henry of Orleans, the difficulty between the two arising from the prince's handling comment on the Italian victory in Abyssinia. The Count defended his adversary, which added much to his popularity among the Italians.

The Count of Turin, from a financial point of view, as well as others, is a most desirable match. He is enormously wealthy, having inherited a third of his mother's immense fortune. He is tall and handsome, very cheerful and sunny-tempered and in the prime of vigorous manhood. It has often been said that he could have his pick among the princesses of Europe. However, this may be it is certain that he once lost his heart to a fair young American girl and would readily have wedded her if she would have consented. The fair American was Miss Julia Dent Grant, daughter of General Frederick Grant, and now the wife of Prince Cantacuzene of Russia.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE MAGNATES' MEETING

Met at Little Rock to Conclude Arrangements for the Season of 1908.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 21.—Satisfied with the past and pleased with the prospect for the future, the magnates of the Southern League rounded up in this city today to conclude all arrangements for the season of 1908. This city is the home of Judge W. M. Kavanaugh, president of the league, and he has arranged to give his colleagues a royal time during their two days' visit. As there is little actual business beyond the arrangement of the schedule to be transacted the magnates expect to have ample time to enjoy the entertainment program prepared in their honor.

This evening Judge Kavanaugh will entertain his guests at dinner, which will be followed by a theatre party. Tomorrow he will take his guests on a trip to Hot Springs, returning to Little Rock in the evening in time to have a banquet. Most of the visitors will remain over Sunday, on which day they will be taken to the Country club and other points of interest in Little Rock and vicinity.

Taken to Milwaukee: Harriet and Hazel South, two young girls whom Judge Elford committed to the girls' industrial school in Milwaukee late yesterday afternoon, were taken thither by Sheriff I. U. Fisher this noon.

BRYAN UNOPPOSED IN SUN FLOWER STATE

Convention of Kansas Democrats Called to Order This Morning by Chairman.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Hutchinson, Kan., Feb. 21.—The convention of Kansas democrats to choose four delegates-at-large to the Denver convention assembled in this city today and was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by State Chairman Ryan. That the delegation to the national convention will be unanimous for the nomination of William J. Bryan is a foregone conclusion, practically every county convention sending delegates to the state convention having passed resolutions favoring the Nebraskaan. There is considerable gossip over the possibility of naming a new man on the national committee to succeed John H. Atwood of Leavenworth, who has held that position since 1901. William F. Sapp of Galena and J. B. Johnson of Peabody are out for the place. Mr. Atwood is fighting for reelection.

Kansas democrats in state convention today morning unanimously adopted a resolution instructing all delegates to the Denver convention, both state and congressional, to cast a solid vote for the nomination of William J. Bryan for president of the United States. A great demonstration, lasting several minutes, attended the adoption of the resolution.

MRS. ELIZA HELLER ACQUITTED BY JURY

Last Evening after Five Hours of Deliberation on Evidence in Abuse
Language Case.

After deliberating five hours on the evidence and its merits, the jury of six trying the case against Mrs. Eliza Heller for alleged abusive language, returned to the municipal court room at 9:45 last evening with a verdict of "Not guilty." The trouble, of which this action was the outcome, arose when Mr. Hill, in accordance with a written and signed agreement and the advice of Atty. E. H. Carpenter, entered the home of his invalid father-in-law, Joseph Churchill. The house adjoins the Heller premises and is owned by Mr. Hill, who also pays the occupants, now practically helpless, a monthly allowance of $5. He says that Mr. Churchill was not receiving proper care and had expressed a wish to go and live with him and that he was preparing to do so when Mrs. Heller interfered. Mrs. Heller insisted that she was going to take care of him and Mr. Hill says that he did not further press the matter.

C. W. MORSE

C. W. Morse, who fled to Europe, but summoned by his counsel to return, will arrive this week and this announcement has given the financial world its biggest sensation in months. Morse's arrival, it is hinted, will be followed by an upheaval besides which the recent market crash will pale.

Morse is coming back to fight, his friend to say. What this may mean has caused certain financiers to shudder. If Morse wants to tell everything he knows to a federal grand jury it is indicated the biggest financial scandal of years may be given an airing.

If the fight is to be waged through federal criminal proceedings, Morse's friends say he will not be the only one hurt. A complete investigation of the banking situation and promoting methods by the federal grand jury is something, it is alleged, many financiers would not relish. That Morse will offer material for this very thing is doubted.

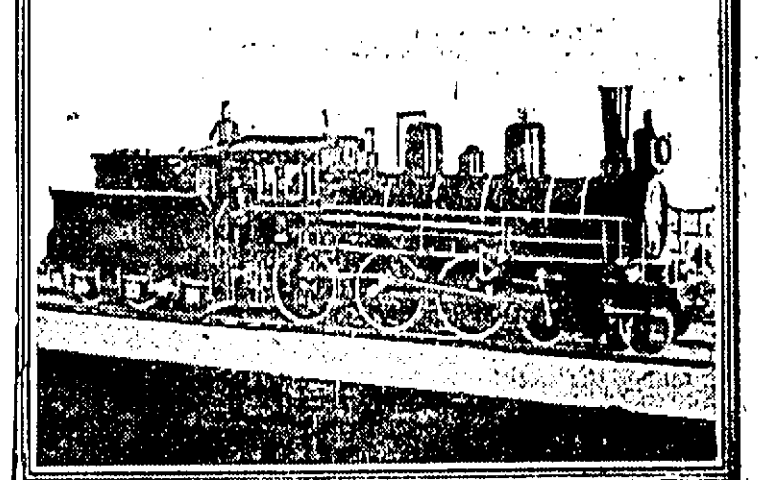

"When Morse gets here and starts to really fight there may be a few other financiers who will find it convenient to take trains abroad, and I doubt if they will return as speedily as he has done," was the way one friend of the departed ice king sized up the situation.

Even in the circles where and revolutions Morse can make threaten no danger to individuals, there is keen dread lest the threatened scandal give business generally a setback that will take months to get over.

Morse's fighting abilities are well known. With the aggravation given Morse he has no reason to shield anyone. Some of the most deeply indebted to him have turned on him when they thought he was safely out of the way. If Morse is revenged he may be able to make things decidedly interesting for some of these men.

United States District Attorney Simmons today added to the score of Morse's enemies by giving an interview in which he mildly defended the man.

"Whenever a man is investigated," Simmons said, "and criminal indictments are possible, it is not right to have a false atmosphere created about him. It is my desire to protect him from the false atmosphere, and that is what I am seeking to do."

BRYAN AT WORK IN STATE OF ILLINOIS

Goes to Springfield to Confer with His Democratic Supporters
There.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—William J. Bryan visited Springfield today to confer with his supporters among the democrats of Illinois. Though ostensibly a rally of the Bryan clubs of the state and held without any special political significance, it is believed the presence of so many Bryan followers will be taken advantage of for an important conference. Mr. Bryan is reported to be not altogether satisfied with the way things have been allowed to drift along in Illinois. Roger C. Sullivan toward Bryan and Bryanism is well known, but recently other matters have come up to ruffle the surface. The suggestion of Governor Johnson of Minnesota for the democratic presidential nomination has been received in Illinois with a cordially not to the liking of the Bryan people. The Swedish element is large and influential in this state and though the majority of the Swedish-American voters are republicans it is believed that they would rally strongly to the support of Governor Johnson if his nomination appeared to be a possibility. The connection between Mr. Bryan's present visit to Illinois and the Johnson boom is strengthened, so far as supposition goes, by the fact that the Nebraska leader goes from Illinois to Kansas, where he is to confer with Kansas democratic leaders tomorrow. Kansas, like Illinois, is the home of large colonies of Swedish-Americans.

Anyone can write an advertisement, but to put the true pill in it, this, as Virgil says, is the foil, and the struggle.

ENJOYING STAY AT HOT SPRINGS

JOHN BROWN WRITES BACK OF THE JANESVILLE PARTY.

VERY INTERESTING LETTER

Is Delighted with the Country in Which the Party Finds Themselves.

Under the date of February 18, John Brown, one of the Janesville party now sojourning at Hot Springs, Arkansas, writes of his impressions of the great resort of the southwest. In fact, of the United States. Evidently the party found that it would be more convenient to live at a hotel than keep house, so are comfortably quartered at the Josephine Hotel, a home-like structure, one of the oldest hotels in the Springs and adjacent to the bath house and business district. With the rest of the party Mr. Brown is bathing daily at the Maurice bath house. While these bath houses are run by the individual owners, they are really leased from the government stand on government ground and are under the direct jurisdiction of Uncle Sam. In speaking of the Maurice Mr. Brown says: "We are all feeling fine and are taking our daily baths each morning at the Maurice Bath House. There are about three hundred here every day and among them are Fitzsimmons, Papke Hart and several other noted prize fighters. Tim Sullivan, famous in the politics of New York City and a leader of Tammany Hall is also a guest here. In the gymnasium on the second floor there are spirited boxing contests between the professional every morning that are most interesting to witness. Once a week there is also a boxing contest under the auspices of the local authorities and the most amusing feature of this is the battle royal between five negroes who are all in the ring at once, the one left on his feet and in the ring at the close of the winner and the way the battle is amusing." Mr. Brown and Superintendent Craft spent some time inspecting the stone crushing plant which is a model in its way and Mr. Craft has secured some excellent samples of the crushed rocks to bring home with him. On all sides of the Springs lie the mountains, all government property, from whose interior bolls out the famous mineral waters that make the city famous. Both Mr. Brown and his party have enjoyed daily trips over these mountains, one walking about four miles and a combination of the three big mountains making an eight mile tramp upon the smoothest of roads built by Uncle Sam. What delighted Mr. Brown and his companions was the city sewage system. When Hot Springs was first discovered by the white man as a place for healing waters, the Indians had long known the spot and was a neutral ground where savage tribes met for the enjoyment of the healing waters. Down the center of what is now the main street, ran the Hot Springs Creek, which was fed by all the springs, both hot and cold that bubbled out of the mountain sides. Later when the city became a city the water course was bricked over and in it empty all the sewage to be carried off several miles below the city proper. Mr. Brown describes it as follows: "They have a fine sewage system here. It consists of a mountain stream that runs underneath the main street. It carries the surface water and otherwise disposes of the sewage problem." In speaking of the business of the city Mr. Brown writes: "The business people are very sociable and the prices on goods are not higher than at home. Lou Hommes is improved very rapidly and we all like it here but nevertheless I would not give up my old home for all the springs in the country." Mr. Brown and his companions are delighted with the bits of real rural back mountain life that is exhibited on the streets. The little Arkansas farmer who cultivates a few acres of land, harvests his crop of cotton, or fodder, and then drives his queer team, perhaps a mule and a cow or two oxen into town to buy his yearly supply of groceries and have his one outing add picturesque to the scene. "It is a very amusing sight to see the real native Arkansas native come into town with his produce. They certainly look as though they came from Noah's Ark," writes Mr. Brown. The letter evidences that the entire party are enjoying life and will be content to remain away until their six weeks are up.

Church Made Merry Until Near Midnight at Parish Hall.

Nearly forty of the men belonging to the Christ Episcopal congregation were entertained last evening at a sumptuous supper served at two long tables in the Sunday school room of the parish hall and a smoker in the little auditorium on the second floor. Each table was ornamented with miniature cherry trees wonderfully built of dry branches, cranberries, and tiny bits of silver wire, and two symbolic red hatchets and tiny flags at each plate also served as reminders of the near approach of Washington's Birthday. Carpenter, E. A. Johnson, Elizabeth Woodruff, E. A. Kemmerer, L. C. Brower, and Mary L. Yancey, and the Misses Agnes Shumway and Amy Woodruff. BEAT ROCKFORD IN BASKETBALL GAME

Janesville Y. M. C. A. Five Was Too
Fast for Visitors and Final Score Was 67 to 37.

Rockford's Y. M. C. A. basketball team met with overwhelming defeat in a contest with the local Association five at the gymnasium here last evening. The Janesville athletes outplayed the visitors at every point and the final score stood 67 to 37 in their favor. The Rockfordites were heavier in weight than their antagonists, but were evidently less skilled in the tactics of the game, as they made 25 fouls during the course of the contest. Matthews made eight field baskets and Bruce Kline made nine. The latter also landed 10 out of 25 possible free throws. The intermediates defeated the Business Men's five by a score of 25 to 21, though the score stood 11 to 8 in favor of the Business Men at the end of the first half. INSURANCE COMPANY HAS 'LOW MORTALITY'

Bankers' Life of Iowa Has Death
Rate Thirty-five Per Cent Lower Than Actuarial Tables.

The Bankers' Life of Iowa has just made up its mortality records for 1907. Its death among ages 31-40 were 35 per cent of those expected according to the Actuarial table; ages 41-50, 43 per cent; ages 51-60, 60 per cent; average for all ages, 48 per cent. This is a remarkable showing especially in view of the fact that all business from age 51 up to old business. Secretary Nelson attributes the low mortality in part to careful medical selection; in part to occupation, as most of the numbers are engaged in occupations that would be classed as preferred; and in part to the fact that all members have to be recommended by bankers before they are admitted.

Although the expense element in the premium is less than $2 per thousand, the association transferred $150,000 of unexpended funds to the reserve at the end of last year. Under the new law of Iowa, which requires assessment companies to value their business as one year business, the Bankers has a reserve of more than twice the required amount.

After waiting for five or ten minutes Mr. Burns was forced to get out and lead the horse to the street. Games Postponed: On account of smallpox, which has broken out in Watertown, the two basketball games scheduled for this evening between the high school boys' team and the girls' team, and the Watertown teams have been called off. Scene from "The Heart of Maryland," Justice Triumphant.

That the drama is one of the most successful ever produced in this country goes without saying. It has had an uninterrupted run in New York of almost a year and is still being presented there. Henry D. Harris will offer the play to local theatregoers at the Myers tonight.

Self-anchoring Projectile Which Will Make it Possible for a Vessel to Save Itself Without the Aid from the Life-Saving Station

The United States marine board and representatives from the navy and the life-saving service have been greatly interested in the success of the new invention by Albert Meyer, pictured above. A three-pronged anchor, combined in a solid steel cylinder shot is fired from a cannon on board ship to the shore. It anchors itself so strongly that 20 men cannot dislodge it. On the rope connecting this projectile and the ship a breeches buoy is rigged up and the passengers and crew sent to shore. Mr. Meyer got his idea soon after the wreck of the ill-fated Valencia, stranded a year or so ago off Vancouver Island, when 133 persons were lost.

"These poor unfortunates," said Mr. Meyer, "being to the rigging for three days. All of them would have been saved in a short time had they had one of these self-anchoring projectiles. Fifteen seconds after firing the shot the apparatus would have been ready to convey people in safety to the shore. It seems absolutely necessary to me that ships be equipped with some device which is not dependent upon human aid from the shore."

A Great Character.
A great character, founded on the living rock of principle, is, in fact, not a solitary phenomenon, to be at once perceived, limited and described. It is a dispensation of Providence, designed to have not merely an immediate, but a continuous, progressive, never-ending agency. It survives the man who possessed it; survives his age—and perhaps his country, his language.—Edward Everett.

Heavy Guns Cause Damage.
Considerable damage has been done at Dover, England, by the firing of the heavy guns from the forts which have been erected to protect the national harbor. The town order was sent round the town to advise the inhabitants to leave their windows open, but upon the firing of the nine-inch guns the vibration was so great that in many cases portions of the ceiling fell, many ornaments were knocked down and broken and windows were cracked.

Common Law.
The common law is not a code of written laws enacted by a legislative body, but consists of rules of action which have become binding from long usage and established custom.

RETURN TO THE LAND

One outcome of the rapid rise of machine industry and its overshadowing importance compared with agriculture in the trade of the world is the necessity of reconsidering the relations of the four great departments of enterprise generally referred to under the title of agriculture, manufacturing, transportation and finance, says the Wall Street Journal.

As a contribution to the role of agriculture in modern development, the work of Senator Julius A. Hoffman, formerly minister of agriculture and later minister of commerce in France, has attracted wide attention on the continents of Europe, in Great Britain, and in the United States. Under the title "The Return to the Land" the once premier of France makes lucid analysis of the rural conditions of that and other countries and seeks to show how much more fortunate it were for all progressive countries if the working forces represented in overproduction of machine industry could be distributed over the unemployed and unutilized acreage of these countries.

M. Hoffman recognizes clearly enough that existing conditions in manufacturing and trade are the result of an exodus from the farm to the factory, from the rural home to the boulevard, which in some ways must not only be arrested but reversed if the object of this progress is to be made practicable. He finds in the so-called standard, to which the manufacturing industry has been brought, the check to the further flow of the rural current towards towns. Scientific manufacturing, with its unlimited possibilities in discovering limitations in the lack of markets.

If these conditions in the world market serve to check the tendency to urbanizing the rural population, what is it that will turn the tide countryward? The long continued improvement in rural prices, betterment of rural conditions resulting therefrom, the flow of surplus capital into land and into conditions of living thereon, together with the invigorating blessings of village life, the superior health of rural industry, and the specialization of culture, such as gardening for the numerous demands of the city market—all these are regarded as favoring the success of the project to make the call of the land inviting enough to bring back to the soil millions who are on the ragged edge of existence in cities.

Probably one outcome of this meritorious program will be, not so much an isolation of rural and urban living and labor, but rather a compromise in which manufacturing will be transplanted to the country by a decentralization process which to some extent is seen among nearly every one of the more advanced peoples. A prosperous rural population increases faster than its labor demand. This constant throwing-off of surplus labor might readily be gathered into village industries or semi-industrial centers short of its being helplessly ingulfed in cities. Such industries tug hard at urban labor for return. One bridge between the land and the city would thus be built, so that return might always be open at least as an alternative field of occupation.

THE SUPREME COURT

The supreme court decided:

1. On Jan. 6 that the law making interstate carriers responsible for injuries to their employees was unconstitutional.

2. On Jan. 26, that the law forbidding interstate carriers to discharge employees because they are members of trades unions is unconstitutional.

3. On Feb. 2, that a labor union boycott is a violation of the interstate commerce law.

These decisions have been rendered by the same court which decided against the railroads and the corporations in the Trans-Missouri case, the Northern Securities case and the Edyston Pipe case.

The court has proved its impartiality. It is applying to labor trusts the same law that it applied to trusts of capital.

The supreme court of the United States is the best fruit of our political system. It who attacks it dishonors himself. He who would pervert or weaken it, or pack it, is a traitor to his country.

SOCIALISM IN GREAT BRITAIN.
Socialism has become a vital political factor in Great Britain. Already there are thirty socialist votes in the House of Commons. The Nineteenth Century, in a recent article, declares that the socialist vote of the world has doubled in the past ten years. This is a movement that needs to be watched. But it does not seem possible that the United States, which has been advanced so rapidly by individual initiative and individual liberty will, in the lifetime of anyone now living, be willing to forgo those advantages for any of the alluring sophistries of socialism.

Catho has been discovered and Admiral Evans and his fleet are now in the port from whence the rich Spanish galleons of yore sailed for the mother country centuries ago, only to be captured by Drake and his English freebooters.

It is proposed to amend the Sherman act so as to make it less drastic. As long as it is not working at its trade no one cares how much it is amended.

Congressman Boutwell can not say enough nice things about Uncle Joe and he advises that his friends take his speech home and play it on their piano.

Everyone seems surprised that S. A. Cook should really decide to run for the United States Senate without having the primary law tested by the supreme court.

So the Taft boom has not burst like an inflated balloon as predicted two years ago, but is steadily gaining power for its aerial voyage.

Leslie M. Shaw is the original funny man. His gyrations as to the presidential candidates are certainly amusing.

Let us hope Owen Winter will not

SEVENTY-ONE CASES FOR FEBRUARY TERM

Monday Next Will Be a Busy Day at the Courthouse—Six to Be Naturalized.

Printed bar calendars for the February term of circuit court, which opens next Monday, were issued yesterday. This list includes 71 cases of fact for the jury, 29 cases of law for the court, and one criminal case—the action of the State of Wisconsin vs. D. W. Barker for alleged violation of the oleomargarine law. Haurahan & Lindquist's $13,000 action against the city of Janesville for alleged sewer "extraneous" is one of the cases named as an issue of fact for the court and will be among the first of the cases tried, possibly next Tuesday. The jurors are not to put in an appearance until Monday, March 2.

Among other things applications for second papers admitting six residents of the county to full naturalization as citizens of the United States will be taken up on Monday next, after the calendar has been called. United States District Attorney John C. Sweet will be here from St. Paul to represent the government for this purpose. "Uncle Sam" is becoming more and more strict regarding this matter and Chief Examiner R. S. Coleman was here last week to make full inquiries regarding the witnesses who are to appear for the applicants. These witnesses must swear that they personally know the candidates to have lived in this county five years and to be persons of good moral character, etc. Five of the applicants claim Germany as their fatherland, and one, John Evans of Evansville, is an Englishman by birth. The five are: Ferdinand Kepp, William Strickert, Herman Hultsch, and William Schrub, all of Edgerton, and Albert Teubert of Janesville.

After the bar calendar is called, memorials to the late Supreme Judge Cassoday and the late John Whinnies will be read by representatives of the Rock County Bar association. This organization will also hold a meeting at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. On account of the large amount of business on hand for that day it may not be possible to dispose of all of the motions until Tuesday and the actual trial of cases may not begin until the day following.

SOME STATEMENTS REGARDING NEW THEORY

Followers of Cooper and His Novel Ideas Give Reason for Their Belief in Him.

With a theory that human health is dependent on the stomach and with a medicine which he says proves this theory, L. T. Cooper, a comparatively young man, has built up an immense following during the past year.

Cooper has visited most of the leading cities of the country, and in each city has aroused a storm of discussion about his beliefs and his medicines. Wherever he has gone, people have called upon him by tens of thousands, and his preparation has sold in immense quantities.

The sale of this medicine has now spread over the entire country, and is growing enormously each day. In view of this, the following statements from two of the great number of followers which he now has, are of general interest.

—L. T. Cooper.

Cooper's remedy. I decided to give them a trial, and I began to feel better at once. After taking the medicine for two weeks I can say that I am a new man. I can eat with enjoyment, the pains in my body have left me, and I am stronger than I have been for years.

"I cannot say enough for Mr. Cooper's remedies. They are wonderful, for they have done everything I claimed for them in my case."

Another statement by Mr. W. D. Stewart, 109 W. Madison St., Chicago, is as follows: "I have had stomach trouble for years, and anyone who is afflicted this way knows what an awful distressed feeling it causes. Many a time I have felt that I would give most any price to be cured. It was by accident that I heard of this man Cooper's remedies. I immediately made up my mind to buy a treatment of him. I used it for about two weeks, and it is impossible to tell how much good it has done me. I feel altogether different. I have more life and energy than I have had for years. This medicine certainly does stimulate and strengthen the whole system. Tired feeling and weak condition of the stomach has entirely passed away. I feel well again."

Mr. Agnes Vigneron, of 942 St. Louis Avenue, Chicago, has the following to say on the subject of the Cooper preparations: "For more than ten years I was broken down in health. I could not sleep and I was very nervous. Gradually I began to lose my memory, until I could not remember things from one day to another. I had severe pains and cramps in my body, and I would at times see dark spots before my eyes. I was unable to do any work whatever, as my strength was failing. I had no appetite, nor could I take any medicine."

I had about given up hope of ever being well again when I read of Mr.

—L. T. Cooper.

The Fighting Chance.

... By ...
ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.

Copyright, 1908, by the Curtis Publishing Company.
Copyright, 1904, by Robert W. Chambers.

Sylvia and Steward were in the music room, very busily singing out the probable cost of a house in that section of the city east of Park avenue, where the newly married independent are forming colonies—a just punishment for those reckless brides who marry for love and are obliged to drive over two car trucks to reach their wealthy friends and relatives of the golden zone.

"What have you been playing?" asked Lella. "What do you find to do with yourself, Sylvia, with that pump and burn boy at your heels all day long? Are there no men about?"

"One's coming today," said Sylvia, laughing, and slipping her arm around Lella's waist she strolled with her out through the tall glass doors to the terrace, with a backward look of airy dismissal at Steward.

Steward, lying in the hot sand on the tiny crescent beach under the cliffs, listened gravely to Steward's figures as, notebook in hand, he went over the real estate problem, commenting thoughtfully as he discussed the houses offered.

He turned to look at her, and she lay there, silent, blue eyes looking back into his. Suddenly they glimmered with tears, and she stretched out both arms, drawing his head down to hers convulsively, her quivering mouth crushed against his lips. Then she rose to her knees, to her feet, dazed, brushing the tears from her eyes.

"To think—to think," she stammered, "that I might have let you face the world alone! Dearest, dearest, you must fight a good fight."

He looked straight into her eyes, fearfully, tenderly, and she looked back with the divine, untroubled gaze of a child, laying her slender, sun-tanned hands in his.

And, deep in his body, as he stood there, he heard the low challenge of his soul on guard, and he knew that the enemy listened.

THE END.

Change in Hospitality.

"It is strange," sighed the blue-eyed girl, "how quickly even your best friends will learn to regard you with suspicion. Take my case, for example. When I boarded and had to pay for all my meals whether I ate them in the boarding house or not I had a standing invitation at several places to drop in any time for dinner. My friends knew I wouldn't save anything by partaking of their hospitality, and they always were urging me to come."

"But now everything is changed. I eat out now and pay for each meal as I get it; consequently all those standing invitations have been tacitly but none the less unmistakably recalled. The fact that I am saving the price of a dinner every time I eat with them makes my friends think I am trying to economize at their expense. I am just as cheerful a guest now as formerly, I don't eat any more and am not a bit more trouble, but I find that not even my closest friends want to feel that they are being used for a good thing."—New York Press.

Didn't See the Joke.

A certain curate was of a painfully nervous temperament, and in consequence was constantly making awkward remarks—intended as compliments—to the bishop and others.

Having distinguished himself in an unusual degree during a gathering of clergy to an afternoon tea in the bishop's palace, he was taken to task for his fallings by a senior curate, who was one of his companions on the way home.

"Look here," said Bruce, the senior curate, "you are a donkey. Why can't you keep quiet instead of making your asinine remarks? I am speaking to you now as a brother."

Lord laughter interrupted him at this point, and for the moment he did not see the joke.—(Hobbs' Sunday Herald).

Muscular Energy in Sugar.

Men performing hard manual labor have a natural taste for sweets, as they supply a great amount of muscular energy, says "What to Eat."

They are equally beneficial to persons exposed to severe cold. In the lumber camps and mines of Canada and the colder sections of the United States workmen consume large quantities of sugar in the form of molasses. Tea and coffee are often sweetened with molasses and in some places it is added to almost every article of food. The same is more or less true in the logging districts of the north, where molasses and rice, mixed together, have become almost a staple diet.

Continuous Coughing.

Recommended When-over Used.

Just as the value of some new uncommon mechanical device is first called into question without trial, so our remedy was first doubted and derided by those who thought they knew.

Naturally there have been "Doubting Thomases" who, clad in armor of old and rusty theories about medicine, have refused to believe that there could possibly be any improvement on the old doctrine. But progress never comes without opposition. It would have been unnatural if the force and power of our proof and suggestion of our success had not captured their reason and forced the doubters to revise their antiquated ideas about cough medicines.

No we hold before you the remedy for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough and Croup—our remedy, the successful remedy. It is called Dr. Gun's Cough Remedy.

It is pleasant to take, absolutely harmless in every respect, and

GOOD BLOOD NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease, instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid. Heredity is likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexion, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

JAP AMBASSADOR TALKS OF PEACE

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ECHOES TAKAHIRA WORDS.

BARON SUCCEEDS AOKI

Mikado, Insular Representative Declares, Is Also Anxious to Maintain Friendly Relations with United States.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The formal reception of Baron Takahira, as ambassador of Japan to the United States, took place at the White House Thursday afternoon. The ambassador was brought to the White House in President Roosevelt's private carriage, accompanied by Col. Drumwell, the president's military aide. The suite of the ambassador, in diplomatic, military and naval uniforms, was present at the reception. The speeches exchanged between the president and the new ambassador, while on their face purely formal, were characterized in each case by an undercurrent of strong desire for the preservation of peace. The ambassador, for instance, said: "The maintenance of lasting peace with all nations and the conservation of the rights and interests of all people are the cardinal objects of my august sovereign."

Baron Takahira.

ing to maintain the historical relations of friendship and sympathy which happily united Japan and the United States, has been graciously pleased to appoint me as his ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary near the government of the United States, and I consider it a great honor to be entrusted with such high duties. Fully cognizant of the growing importance of our relations, I confess I am not insensible of the great responsibilities involved in this important mission. The maintenance of lasting peace with all nations and the conservation of the rights and interests of all people are the cardinal objects of my august sovereign in his international dealings, and I assure you, Mr. President, that in the discharge of my duties my attention will be constantly directed to the attainment of that high ideal, and nothing in my power will be left untoward in that direction. Relying implicitly upon your renewed confidence in me and the friendly co-operation of your government with my efforts, I have the honor to deliver to you the credentials of the emperor whereby his majesty appoints me to this important post and his letter recalling my predecessor, Viscount Aoki."

President Responds to Jap.

"Mr. Ambassador: In receiving from your hands the letters credential whereby your august sovereign, the emperor of Japan, commends you to me and to the government of the United States in the capacity of ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary, as the faithful exponent of his imperial majesty's sentiments, the friendliness and esteem for this country, I have great pleasure in expressing the lively satisfaction with which I have heard your cordial assurances of the desire and purpose of Japan to maintain and, if possible, still further strengthen the close bonds of amity that have so long, so happily and so beneficially existed between your great island empire of the far east and our own commonwealth of the west. I feel that I can do even more than reciprocate those assurances. On behalf of this government and of my countrymen, I can most sincerely pledge to you, and through you to your nation, the earnest co-operation of the United States in all that may tend to increase and more fully establish the good will we mutually bear and to foster the material advantage of the two nations to the paths of tranquil prosperity."

QUAKER "JOBLESS" RIOT

PHILADELPHIA UNEMPLOYED IN WILD SCENES.

Twenty Are Injured, But Police Finally Quell Mob—Fourteen Are Arrested.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—The marching of nearly 1,000 foreigners upon the city hall, where they said they intended to make demands upon Mayor Rayburn for work, precipitated a riot in Broad street late Thursday. In which 20 persons were injured before the police dispersed the marchers and arrested 14 of them.

The men, most of whom were Italians and Poles, marched from the foreign settlement in the lower section of the city. The leaders and a score of others carried red flags having a black border. When they reached Broad street, a few blocks below the city hall, several wagons attempted to pass through the line. The drivers were dragged from their seats by the marchers and beaten.

Policemen ran to the rescue and a riot call was sent in. The motor bicycle police were sent through the center of the city and rounded up the entire mounted police squad, the big reserve street squad and all patrolmen, who were hurried to the scene in wagons and automobiles. Private persons who were watching the parade got into the first disturbance and when the big reserves hurried down upon the marchers a general riot was in progress. Some of the marchers drew revolvers and began firing at the police and the mounted officers riding into the center of the fight used their batons right and left upon the heads of the leaders. In the melee three policemen were shot and slightly wounded and Charles Mann, who was watching the fight, was struck in the leg by a stray bullet.

HARRIMAN WINS CONTROL.

Chicago Judge Dissolves Writ Forbidding Use of Proxies.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—E. J. Harriman won complete control of the Illinois Central railroad Thursday, when Judge Parlin Q. Hall dissolved the injunction restraining the voting of 286,237 Harriman proxies. Stuyvesant Plant was knocked out and the Harriman victory was absolute. Judge Hall not only dissolved the writ of injunction but settled the more important point that foreign corporations may hold and vote stocks in Illinois corporations. Had the decision been otherwise the voting power of $400,000,000 worth of Illinois stocks would have been invalidated.

MADISON, ILL., BANK CLOSES.

Trusted Employee Is Suspected—Run Compels Locking Doors.

Madison, Ill., Feb. 21.—The Tri-City State bank closed Thursday and the home of a trusted employee of the institution was under police guard Thursday night. Officers with a warrant waited to serve it. The doors of the bank were closed when a run started on the bank following a report that an employee was under surveillance and that his accounts were being investigated. The bank's capital is $25,000 and its deposits aggregate about $95,000. Most of the depositors are foreigners residing in Madison, Venice and Granite City, the three cities. Bank officials declare the closing is temporary.

BASEBALL TRAINING.

Players Must Work Hard Before the Season Begins.

PRACTICE MANY HOURS DAILY

How the Teams Get In Shape For Race For the Pennant—Cost a Large Sum, but Is Necessary—Joe Kelley, Famous Ball Player.

Those who imagine that the professional baseball player is busy a few months during the year and the rest of the time goes fishing and skating should see the teams at practice long before the season opens. They go to work in the morning like the average business man, and the way they are put through their paces sends them home at night footsore and weary and ready for bed soon after supper. The men start for the ball park after breakfast, and besides the games played with picked teams they practice running and throwing and batting in order to get in the best physical condition possible.

Professional baseball today means weeks and weeks of training. Just as the pugilist prepares for a match, and a player must have a strong constitution to stand the excitement and strain upon mind and muscle during the hard fought games. While the actual playing season is about six months long, from the middle of April to the first or second week in October, long before the race for the pennant starts the men are hard at work, and from then on to the last game played they earn every dollar they receive.

To get the outdoor practice necessary so early in the year some players are taken south and some to California, where the mild climate will permit the work to be carried on. There is no question that it pays. The present day manager knows baseball from A to Z and the value of having well trained players on the team. The tours are arranged as a matter of business and are part of the programme that is strictly carried out at the beginning of a season.

This early training is costly. Before the players assemble at the training headquarters the secretary and the ground keeper have gone on ahead to look after the playing field, the hotel accommodations, the advertising arrangements and the innumerable other minor details. With the team finally gathered together, the work comes thick and fast. It costs a nice little figure to feed and house these healthy athletes, not including trainers, rubbers and other camp followers. Then there are good, bad transportation bills, fare sized items for playing paraphernalia, which includes suits for home and out of town games, gloves, bats and balls and numerous sundries. The training trip is an expensive necessity, and the club is lucky if the preliminary games have paid half of the cost of the sojourn in the south and on the coast.

A manager who believes in this early training and who as a player has experienced the benefit of it is Joe Kelley, who will have charge of the Boston National league team for the next two seasons. Manager Kelley is one of the old favorites of the National league. He was a member of the champion Baltimore team and later helped Brooklyn capture the pennant. As manager of the Cincinnati Reds he failed to shine, but last season landed a pennant for the Toronto Eastern league club.

PUGILIST ABE ATTELL.

Interesting Career of the American Featherweight Champion.

Abe Attell, the remarkable little American featherweight champion, who is now among the most talked of pugilists of the day, first pulled on a glove seven years ago in Alex. Gregorius' amateur club in Frisco. He was a messenger boy at the time, and the tough youngsters who were then fighting laughed at him because one of them had seen Abe trifling with a high collar on. Attell really had no time to train and while delivering his messages made that his road work too. Week after week Abe fought at Gregorius' club, and just as regularly as he boxed another K. O. was added to his record. True, he had some "easy marks" to fight, but none of them ever made him extend himself. He was only seventeen years of age at that time, and his showing was regarded as a highly creditable one.

ABE ATTELL.

Attell has improved greatly in the last few years. At first he had only speed and footwork. Now he does not have to dance about so much. He has learned to anticipate just what a man is going to do, and he can judge the blow to a fraction of an inch. Attell now uses the body and just swings out of the way or slips inside a lead.

Attell is the only fighter who has started in mid by seven years of hard fighting worked his way up to the championship. Some men he had to defeat two and three times before he got credit for being the better man. Then critics and followers of the boxing game would scoff and say that when Abe Attell met so and so he would be wiped out the map. Abe merely went along with his cleaning up process, gradually working his way to the top by triumphing bantamweights, featherweights, lightweight men and even Buddy Ryan, a welterweight.

Attell recently put it all over Frankie Nell and beat him to a standstill in thirteen rounds. Owen Moran, the clever little Englishman who a short time ago fought a twenty-five round draw with Attell, beat Nell in seven rounds. Therefore if beating Nell in quicker time than did Moran indicates superiority then Attell must be considered better than Moran. The difference in Abe's and Owen's battles with Frankie was that the latter had Attell in distress, compelled his holding to get out of difficulties and made him stall for several rounds until he could pull himself together, while Moran never was in serious trouble. One good punch can do that trick, and Frankie managed to land it on Attell and failed to connect it on Owen. At that the champion beat his opponent with more ease and made him appear more foolish than did the Englishman, and that perhaps counts for something. Abe's victory carried with it more satisfaction than did Moran's, as he and Frankie were bitter enemies, and the rank and file in Frisco hoped to see him trimmed. A return match between Attell and Moran at 125 pounds, weigh in several hours before entering the ring, is now in order. Both have declared their willingness to match under these weight conditions, and, judging from their other encounter, it should make an attractive and paying contest for the coast promoters.

TERRIBLE BLAST TAKES 28 LIVES

TEN TONS OF DYNAMITE IS EXPLODED AT PINOLE, CAL.

SHAKES THE BAY REGION

Four White Men and Twenty-Four Chinamen Perish as a Result—Wild Panic in Town—Foreman Is Slain.

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 21.—With a force that shook the entire bay region like an earthquake the packing house of the Hercules Powder works at Pinole, 14 miles north of here, blew up late Thursday afternoon and in the explosion four white men and 24 Chinamen were killed.

Ten tons of dynamite went up in the terrible blast, shattering the sheds to dust and splinters.

Foreman Blown to Atoms.

W. W. Stillwell, foreman of the packing house, was blown to atoms at his post of duty. Manuel Enos, Joseph Grace and W. A. Rodriguez were the other white men killed. The 28 dead included every man who was at work in the packing house. Flames burst forth in the ruins following the explosion, and threatened the relative house, where two score girls were at work. A panic ensued, and many were cut by flying glass and crushed and trampled in the mad rush for the doors.

Seek Their Loved Ones.

The families of the men who daily risked their lives at the powder plant came running from the little hamlet of Pinole seeking news of loved ones. The danger of an additional explosion prevented those who escaped injury from approaching too near the wreck, and it was not until late in the evening that the number of dead and injured was known. Charles Birmingham, Jr., superintendent of the plant, took charge of the men following the explosion. An armed guard was thrown around the powder works and no one was allowed to get within the danger line.

Loss Is $100,000.

A fire-fighting brigade was organized and in the face of hazards that might have meant death for Birmingham or any of his men, the flames were fought down and most of the plant not torn to tatters by the explosion was saved. As far away as Berkeley and Oakland the shock of the explosion caused intense excitement. People rushed from their houses and places of business thinking another earthquake had come. The Hercules plant is owned by the Dupont Nemours Powder company and is used for the manufacture of black powder of high explosive power. The loss to the company due to Thursday's accident is placed at about $100,000. No definite cause for the accident can be given.
